There's plenty to see while kayaking through the mangroves at Al Thakira nature reserve, including reef egrets, terns, herons and jumping fish.

Sunset to full moon kayaking events offer a different take on the experience – why not spend the night out at Purple Island and enjoy a traditional barbecue?

- 30+ species of fish
- 5-8 times more carbon storage than other forests
- 2% of world's tree species thrive in seawater
